

Student Senate Will Conduct Survey With Help of Students

By CAROL TUDDER

Students go to college, but where do they go? Why not NWMS? These and others are the questions that the Student Senate with the cooperation of other interested students is trying to find the answers for to account for the fall in this year's enrollment.

Over the Thanksgiving vacation students from the different towns and counties have volunteered to conduct individual surveys asking the following questions of students their own age:

Where do you attend college?
Why did you go there?
Why did you not go to Maryville if you are going elsewhere?
If you are not going to college, why aren't you?

Our campus has a new Union Building that will compare favorably with those on the other state campuses, and many other features that should draw many students and yet our enrollment is the smallest. Why?

Students lending their services to conduct the survey are Della Huffaker, Bolckow; Marilyn Brown, Fillmore; Pat Blair, Rosendale; Mary Bauman, Savannah. These students are from Andrew County.

Students Will Conduct Poll
Atchison County: Iorma Hawkins, Fairfax; Frances Curry, Rock Port; Pat McCoy, Tarkio; Stanley Butt, Westboro. Buchanan County: Jerry Agee, DeKalb; Jean Long, Easton; Pat Lehman, St. Joseph. College Outlines Program Schedule for Broadcasts

President Speaks to Radio Audience

A new field of public relations activities for the College has been opened with the coming of a radio station to Maryville. During the week days, the College will present several programs. Mr. Irving Spigle, director of the College programs, is assisting President Jones in the recording.

Students in Strings Section Practice for Mr. Sandford

Music Majors Who May Teach Take Special '66' Instruction

By MELVA HEITS

Maybe you have wondered as I have how students who major or minor in music learn enough about the different types of instruments to be able to teach other people to play them, which they undoubtedly are expected to do when they begin their teaching career.

All of my questions were answered when I interviewed Mr. John L. Smay, acting chairman of the music department.

In the instrumental classes music students are actually taught the fingerings of various instruments and acquainted with the accepted methods of teaching them.

Names indicate classes. As indicated by the names given these classes, Class Strings is concerned with the principles of playing the violin, viola, cello, and stringed bass. Class Woodwinds is concerned with the flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon, and saxophone, and Class Brass and Percussion deals with the cornet, trombone, French horn, baritone, sousaphone, snare drum, bass drum, and timpani. The methods of explaining proper vocal procedures to students are taught in Class Voice Methods.

Although each music student selects an instrument or voice for his "major interest" and specializes in that field, when he has graduated and enters the teaching profession, he will be called upon to teach all of the instruments and direct choral work as well.

Has Series

It seems that the music division has a series of four classes, called the "66 series", devoted to particular techniques of musical instruction. These courses are classified under the heading of methods and materials in the division of music.

Composing this series are Class Strings, 66a, Class Woodwinds, 66b, Class Brass and Percussion, 66c, and Class Vocal Methods, 66d.

Provides Facilities

This series of classes provides facilities to the music students for elementary performance experience on the different instruments which they may be called upon to teach.

Two of these classes are being taught this semester. They are Class Woodwinds and Class Strings.

Irving Spigle Will Direct Series From Local Station

President J. W. Jones Will Set Forth Plans And Objectives in First of Daily Programs

By OPAL CARSON

When it was first decided that the College would do a series of broadcasts over radio station KNIM, Dr. J. W. Jones, president of the college, asked Mr. Irving Spigle to take charge of the program. Mr. Spigle, director of IMB, had training in the field of educational radio at the University of Indiana where he did his graduate work.

It will now be his responsibility to organize such materials as are available into suitable fifteen-minute programs.

Will Broadcast at 2:15 p.m.

A tentative schedule has been set up for 2:15 p.m. each day, Monday through Friday. On Monday there will be a program of campus news that will be of interest to the general public. This program will feature a series of interviews with student leaders who are to be chosen by committee appointed by the Student Senate. These interviews will be conducted by selected students.

Tuesday's program will be in the hands of the Division of Languages and Literature. Programs from the various departments represented in this division are to be arranged.

Faculty and Students Will Help

Wednesday will be devoted to Teacher Education. At this time the Department of Education, the faculty and student teachers, will offer programs dealing with problems relative to education in the world of today.

Programs from the other departments of the College will be given on Thursday. These will feature panel discussions, interviews, and other educational features designed to interest the listening public.

Musical Music on Friday

The Division of Music will have charge of Friday's program. On alternate Fridays there will be a program of recorded music with accompanying commentary concerning music appreciation. This will be handled by students, with cooperation of music faculty. When such a program is not presented, there will be fifteen minutes of music by selected senior students of music.

Mr. Spigle announces that the series of broadcasts, will begin with an address by Dr. Jones, wherein he will set forth the objectives and plans of the programs. After that the series will proceed according to its regular schedule.

Tower Choir Will Sing

Each day's program will be introduced and closed with the Tower choir singing the "Alma Mater." This music will be under the direction of Mr. Gilbert Whitney.

Already some programs are being put on tape to be used when the station opens, Mr. Spigle says. It is the plan of the College to build up a store of such recordings to be used when it is impossible or impractical for students to participate at the hour of broadcast.

It is the plan of the College to make these programs both educational and entertaining. Stress will, of course, be placed on the educational, but it is hoped that all programs will be such that they will appeal to the general public.

MACRAO Elects Foster To Presidential Office

Robert P. Foster, NWMSC registrar, was elected president of the Missouri Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers at the annual meeting in Columbia last week. The meeting was held in the Union Building on the University campus.

Miss Margaret Mitchell, of Joplin Junior College in Joplin, was elected secretary-treasurer for the coming year.

Campus Is Proposed Location For National Guard Armory

The campus of Northwest Missouri State College is the proposed location for a new National Guard armory, according to an announcement made by Governor Forrester Smith. Major Walter Wilson, commanding officer of the 129th Field Artillery Battalion, stated that the site would be on the northwest part of the campus, north of the Guard's present vehicle storage building. The state hopes to let contracts for the construction of the new armory by January 1.

Dr. J. W. Jones, president of the College, said the Board of Regents renewed an easement on the campus granted to the Missouri National Guard. He added that the College is happy to have the proposed structure on the campus and to be associated with the Guard.

The new armory will furnish drill space, classrooms, offices, and storage for organizational supplies. It will also be available for community functions as Guard activities permit. Guard offices, now located downtown, and Guard activities will be consolidated in the building.

It is hoped that the new building will aid the College by relieving congestion in the gymnasium.

Dear President Jones:
We were pleased indeed to have so many of your students and faculty with us last Friday. Your cheerleaders, band, and rosters reflected credit on your college. Our only dissatisfaction was with the score, but apparently our team couldn't do anything about it more than they did.

Parents Observe Typical Day In Life of School

About three hundred parents and friends of Horace Mann school students gathered in that building on the evening of November 12 to see enacted during that evening a typical day in the life of the school.

A regular schedule of classes was followed, each class period being fifteen minutes long. Students, together with their parents and friends, met their usual classes. Here the visitors were given a short resume of work done, plans for future work, general objectives of the course, and were given an opportunity to meet with the instructor and student teacher if they so desired.

During the period when the students would ordinarily have been in study hall, they conducted their parents through the school cafeteria where doughnuts and cider were served to them.

The program opened with a welcome offered by Betty Dougan, president of the student body. This was followed by a short talk by Mr. Herbert Dieterich, principal of Horace Mann High School. The speech department, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Weigand and Lynn Adams, student teacher, presented a choral reading which depicted the life and work of the great educator, Horace Mann. Closing the program was a number by the music department, "Little Red Riding Hood." This was directed by Mr. Gilbert Whitney.

This is the second year that Horace Mann School has held such an event in connection with American Education Week. Its main purpose is to allow the parents of the students to become better acquainted with the school, the instructors, and the curriculum being offered there.

NWMS Library Provides Many Opportunities to Students

By MARYLYN LAMAR

Center of culture, a place for meetings and quiet browsing, and a place for delving into realms of science and adventure—the library on the campus of NWMSO is all these.

Always willing to give information and to assist in finding needed materials are Mr. James Johnson and Mrs. Lucille Brumbaugh, librarians; Miss Hubert Garrett, in charge of the circulation desk; and Mrs. Joan Morrison, Mrs. Carleen Hopkins, and Mrs. Jane Johnson, in charge of the reserve room, the browsing room, and the new books and miscellaneous, respectively.

Among the numerous service areas is the Instructional Material Bureau, directed by Mr. Irving Spigle. Almost any material that teachers of students might need for teaching is kept in the IMB. This department is also the center for audio-visual materials on the campus. In the reserve book reading room are the books for limited use by large number of people.

Books which may be read for recreation, current magazines, and newspapers are kept in the browsing room. In the reading room are the reference books, pamphlets, and magazine indexes. The library may be reserved for special meetings also by groups related to the college.

May Check Out Pictures

Another service offered by the library is the furnishing of good pictures for rooms on the campus. Those who wish to check out pictures in the reserve and browsing rooms and the main reading rooms should see Mrs. Garrett.

The present library building was built in 1938. In previous years the library had been located in different places in the administration building. There are five stack levels with a capacity of over 100,000 volumes. The community is fortunate to have this library, which is rated as one of the best in this part of the state.

Curtains Open for Second Time On Presentation of 'Antigone'

By JEAN LIENEMANN

As the house lights dimmed in the auditorium last night, play viewers opened their eyes to the action of an old Greek tragedy translated and brought to life on the modern stage. "Antigone," under the direction of Mr. Robert F. Gee, was presented last night and will be presented this morning at the assembly.

This production is adapted from Sophocles' Greek tragedy by Jean Anouilh. The translated version by Lewis Galanter comes from Paris, France.

A Tense Moment

Tyrannical King Creon of Thebes and his niece Antigone reach a fever pitch argument over the burial of Antigone's dead brother, Polynices. Carla Haylett, who plays the title role in the College production, and Robert Wilson, who plays Creon, are pictured in an early rehearsal of the drama.

Meets Demands of Part

Carla Haylett, a sophomore from Graham, as Antigone, at all times measured up to the demands of her part. Her persistence to bury her brother led knowingly to her death.

Despite the persuasiveness of King Creon, played by Robert Wilson, freshman premedical student from Sheridan, Antigone would not concede to seeing her brother remain unburied.

Chorus Adds to Effect

Background assistance given by the Chorus added to the general effect of the play with the use of lively and modern-mannered comments. Robert Andrews, senior English major from Clearmont, played the part of the Chorus.

Ismene, Antigone's sister, played by Sue Condon, senior English major from Maryville, tried to reason with Antigone, who was to die. Then, she, too, wished to die.

Creates Tense

The nurse, quite alarmed over Antigone's sudden change of ideas, was played by Opal Carson, senior English major from Eagleville. The nurse's unawareness of Antigone's intentions helped to add suspense to the tragedy.

The task of the guards was to apprehend Antigone when she tried to bury her brother. These roles were played by Richard Onkerson, sophomore speech major from Maryville, as the first guard; Lewis Wallace, freshman from Hopkins as second guard; and Frank Babb, junior English major from Cameron, as third guard.

Suicide Brings Climax

The constant knitting of Eurydice, Creon's wife, played by Suzanne Haack, exchange student from Zeven, Germany, also built suspense. This suspense reached its climax when Eurydice went to her room to commit suicide.

Harley Hackett, junior English major from Dearborn, played the part of the messenger. His task was to break the grim news to Creon of Haemon's suicide.

Plays Part of Lover

Lynn Adams, senior speech major from Red Oak, Iowa, played the part of Haemon, Antigone's lover. Eddie Woltz, senior elementary education major from St. Joseph, was student director of the play. Stage crew was Lynn Adams, lighting, Opal Carson, Mary Jane Peck, and Shirley Watson, construction; and Carolea Pritchard, tickets.

Recruits Student in Chicago

Miss Mattie M. Dykes reports that while she was in Chicago attending a meeting of the National Editorial Association, she recruited a student for next year, a young lady who, wishing to enter a small college instead of going directly to a university, has chosen Maryville.

Committee Takes First Steps for Course Revision

An all day meeting of the Curriculum Committee for the Northwest District was held November 14. The purpose of the Committee is to confer and take first steps toward the revision of the state elementary course of study.

The assignment concerns the language arts. The Northwest district is collaborating with Maryville on the revision of the language arts area. Other districts of the state are working on other areas.

Those present at the meeting were Ruth Glazebrook, chairman, elementary supervisor, Trenton; Homer Bolen, district supervisor of elementary education from state department, Cameron; Eunice Dawson, rural teacher, Allendale; Virginia George, supervising principal, elementary education, Albany Schools, Albany.

Anna Gorsuch, room supervisor, fifth grade, Horace Mann, Maryville; Leola Harris, teaching principal in Trenton elementary school, Trenton; Dorothy Hunt, supervisor of elementary education, North

Keep Thanksgiving Day!

In the fall of 1621 the first Thanksgiving Day was held. Now, some three hundred and thirty one years later, we shall be celebrating the same occasion on Thursday, November 27, 1952.

But are we celebrating for the same purpose for which the Pilgrims celebrated? To them Thanksgiving Day was a festival of thanksgiving for the mercies of the closing year. Is it the same for us?

I think not. For far too many of us it is just another vacation from school or a job, or a time for family reunions. True, Thanksgiving services are held in every church across the country—but do we attend them?

Since 1864 when President Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday in November to be set aside for the observance of Thanksgiving Day, every President has followed his example.

Before that, Thanksgiving Days were set aside whenever they were thought to be needed. Continental Congress recommended days of thanksgiving during the Revolutionary War and in 1874 for the return of peace. Washington appointed such a day in 1879 after the adoption of the Constitution and in 1795 for the general benefits and welfare of the nation.

Today, let's try to keep Thanksgiving Day in the manner for which it was intended, and in the manner so accurately expressed in a poem entitled Thanksgiving Day by Annette Wynne.

Brave and high-souled Pilgrims, you who knew no fears,
 How your words of thankfulness go ringing down the years;
 May we follow after; like you, work and pray,
 And with hearts of thankfulness keep Thanksgiving Day.

—Melva Heits

Can't Yell? Then Sing!

I think that we owe Burl Walter a vote of thanks for getting the ball rolling toward a school fight song. One positive way that we can show our appreciation to those who are working on it is to take the responsibility for learning it when it is completed.

We've all noticed and admired schools which really use their fight songs in pep rallies and in games. They often begin or close their rallies with the song. Usually, they stand to sing it at games as they would the school song. Surely if the high schools can successfully initiate and organize a project such as this on which everyone takes part, we who are in college can make a go of it.

Since this idea is a new one to the college, the whole student body will have to get behind it to make it strong enough to stand as a precedent to be carried through each year. We can add a great deal to our sometimes "sagging" school spirit in this way. If we can't yell together we can at least sing together.

Let's really get behind the Bearcats during the basketball season this year with our yells, our school band, and our pep organization shows plus—our new school fight song!

—Mary Ann Ford

Let's Score 100

Football season began with little enthusiasm, but as the season progressed, the spirit grew. It reached all-time highs as the students boarded seven buses en route to Warrensburg.

Now that football season is over, basketball is just around the corner. We play our first game December 1 at Rockhurst. Our first home game will be December 5 when we shall be facing Pittsburg.

Backing the Bearcats is your duty as a student whether or not you are a member of a pep organization. Let's start the basketball season rolling by scoring 100 points for school spirit.

Dr. Sowards Heads New Study Group

Dr. J. K. Sowards, an instructor in humanities, teaches a "Great E. 505" course to a group of local citizens; the course is affiliated with the Great Book Association. The thirty-five members, who represent a cross section of the people of the community, include professional men, ministers, laborers, and housewives.

The course is not academic; no lectures are given, and no preparation of secondary material is made. Each member reads one great book for each of the meetings, which are conducted on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

Propagation of ideas of great reading and thinking is the ideal on which the Great Books course was founded. The course is conducted as a discussion group and is concerned with ideas; Dr. Sowards serves only as moderator. The greatest stimulation is the contact with individual authors, whose ideas are discussed at the meetings by the group.

Eighteen readings are outlined for each year; types range from the Bible and the Declaration of Independence to modern literature. The course is divided into five yearly groups. Fifty-three books are read in five years. Selections are made by a group of persons headed by Dr. Mortimer Adler of the University of Chicago.

Dr. Sowards believes the meetings are profitable and should continue to be so.

Circus Is Given By First Grade

The first grade at Horace Mann Laboratory School entertained the kindergarten and part of the first grade mothers at a circus, held on Friday, November 14, at 1:30 p. m.

This circus was the culmination of a circus unit which the children have been working on since the first of the year.

The "windjammers" began the circus with a parade to the recorded music of a callopie, Jimmy Quinn did a really superb job as manager. The trained horses were Jimmy Nelson and Marshall Tonnes.

The skating bear was Jimmy Cook. The lion tamer, Robin Foster, tamed a lion, Danny Price. Those in the elephant act were Turner Tyson, Jimmy Crozier, and Gary Fields.

The snake charmers were Trudy McCarthy and Sandra Ross. All of the boys helped to form the freak caterpillar. For refreshments the children were given pink lemonade, popcorn, and suckers.

Students and Faculty Are in J C Stage Show

Six students and faculty members of Northwest Missouri State College took part in the production, "Shooting Stars," given in the College auditorium on November 13-14 by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Maryville.

Faculty members who took part in the production were Dr. Leon F. Miller, who impersonated Milton Berle; Mr. Gilbert A. Whitney, who sang in the Jubilee Minstrel Group; and Mrs. Kenneth E. Bird, who gave an organ solo.

Students who participated in the production and the personalities they impersonated were Sue Condon, Fran Allison; Virginia Barger, Jane Froman; Mary White, Joanne Wheatley.

Faculty Members Vote On Possible Melodrama

Faculty members of the College recently received a questionnaire prepared by a committee appointed by the Faculty Council. In the bulletin a proposal is set to their vote. The proposal concerns the possibility of the production of a melodrama by the faculty. The purpose of this production would be the raising of money for the new faculty lounge in the Administration building.

Should the faculty record a positive vote, committee assignments would be as follows: Dr. Frank Grube, cutting and preparing the script for production, chairman of administration, finance, and business involved; Mr. Ralph Fulsom and Mr. Robert Gee, directing, scenery, and general aid where work and advice is needed in the field of production; Mr. Gilbert Whitney, all music and especially interact scenes of solos.

Bearcat Quintet Is Ready for Cage Opener with Rockhurst

By ROBERT ANDREWS

Around the nucleus of five lettermen, Dick Buckridge, Ono Monachino, George Coulter, John Garner, and Larry Belt, Coach Dale Kessinger is building the Bearcat quintet for the 1952-53 cage season. Now that the football season is ended, redoubled emphasis is being placed up on the court game to ready the Maryville five for the season's opener at Rockhurst, December 1.

Members of last year's reserve squad who are battling for berths on the varsity team this season include Bill Baldwin, Don Palmer, Denzil Caldwell, Bill Norton, Jim Swaney, Gene Anderson, and Maurice Ingram.

Three Are New Stars
Included in the group of freshmen who are making their initial attempt at breaking into the Bearcat lineup are three of the outstanding high school players of northwest Missouri of last season. These are Lex Creamer, Union Star; Bill McIntosh, Skidmore; and Eddie Hightree, Jameson.

Cole Joins Squad

Jerry Cole, a sophomore from Bedford, Iowa, has joined the basketball squad in its daily workout since the close of the football season and is working into Kessinger's plan for the Bearcat five.

With the opening game, a non-conference tilt with Rockhurst, less than a week away, Coach Kessinger reports that he is well pleased with the hustle shown by squads.

Music Department Presents Recital

Five students in the Department of Music will present a joint recital in the Auditorium of the College on Monday, December 8 at 8:15 p.m. All are students of Mr. Kenneth E. Bird.

At the organ will be Mary Jane Kurtz. She will play a Prelude and Fugue of Bach and several pieces by Vienne.

Piano students performing are Georgia Ann Harnes playing Trois Pieces by Poulenc; Anita Fink, three pieces from the Children's Corner by Debussy; Curt Gaffney, three Preludes by Gershwin; and Jerry Aage playing short pieces by Bach, Handel, Haydn, and Beethoven.

Talks were given by Coaches Gordon Anderson, George Coulter, and George MacLellan, after which movies of the Westboro and Homecoming games were shown in the school auditorium.

"Murphy" Murphy, from Kankakee, Illinois, enjoyed the reception at the President's home. "Murphy" was an industrial arts major and a star in track.

By DONNA LAWSON

Coached by Dale Kessinger, the Bearcats will journey to Kansas City, Dec. 1, to open their basketball season by playing Rockhurst. Last year the 'Cats won their first game with Rockhurst 51-49.

The Hawks have many exceptionally good players. Several of them are graduates of the outstanding team of Lillis high school. Rockhurst's team is said to be much stronger than it was last year. This squad has the advantage over the Maryville team by playing their first cage game Nov. 25.

Team Is Small
"Our team will be small and relatively inexperienced," state Coach Kessinger, who is the new Bearcat basketball coach. He also stated that he is hoping that hustle will overcome the height handicap of the local team.

Some of the lettermen who will see action are Dick Buckridge, G. John Garner, F. Ono Monachino, C. George Coulter, C. and Larry Belt, F. Other squad members of last year are Bill Baldwin, G. Bill Norton, G. and Don Palmer, C.

New Bearcats Will Help

The first home game for the Maryville crew will be Dec. 5, with Pittsburg. This game is followed by games with Nebraska Wesleyan and St. Benedict's, Dec. 5th and 9th, respectively.

'Cat Squad Tussle Shows Lots of Hustle

Maryville's 1952-53 Bearcat basketball team made their debut before a small crowd at the College gym last night with the Whites defeating the Greens 60-43.

The game, ragged at times, showed that Maryville will have a small hustling, quick shooting squad for this year's MIAA conference race.

The White team, consisting of letterman George Coulter, Larry Belt, Dick Buckridge and John Garner along with newcomers Bill Baldwin, Gerry Cole, Wilbur Powell, Bill McIntosh, Weldon Dowden and Jim Swaney who had too much all around finesse for the Green team.

After holding only a slight 14-13 first quarter advantage, the Whites picked up the scoring in the second period to tally 20 points while limiting the Greens to a meager nine. The half ended with the Whites leading 34-22.

The third quarter ended with the Whites still leading 46-33. In the last period the lettermen sparked White quintet rang up 14 points while all the Greens could muster was ten.

Bill Baldwin, sophomore squadman, led the White team in scoring with 14 points. John Garner and Dick Buckridge with 12 and 11 points were next in line.

The Greens, composed of letterman Ono Monachino and newcomers Eddie Hightree, Maurice Ingram, Bob Wilcoxson, Lex Creamer, Bob Smith, Don Palmer and Bob Combs hustled throughout but didn't have the experience to combat the opposition. Hightree with 16 points, including some great drive-in shots and Creamer with eight tallies led the losers in scoring.

In the preliminary, B & W defeated Goetz of St. Joseph 78-45. The winners displayed a lightning fast break, mixed with clever passing and sensational shooting to post their victory. Pete Younger contributed 23 points and Daryl Flint 13 to top the victors in scoring. Bill Gloschen had 13 for the losing Goetz team.

"Roundball" takes the spotlight...intramural competition is full swing and sway...those boys go dancing up and down the floor with swanlike ease...

Speaking of ease, pads were issued after the first quarter of the first game...

Have you seen referee Bob Kariger's smiling face?...The intramural boys say it's because he's "whistle happy"...could be...

"Footballitis" hasn't worn off yet by any means... "Pop" Hemenway is using the two platoon system in his intramural club...

Sportsmanship is the big thing in intramurals...and we have it... whenever "Moose" Dillon knocks down three or four of the boys, he always tries to help them up... that's the spirit, Bob...

Thanks from the football squad for the turkey dinner at the Union Building last Wednesday evening... wonderful in every way... so much turkey and trimmings...

Congratulations to Don Black and Carl Leffingwell on being chosen co-captains of the 1953 football squad...

Varsity cage squad is still waiting for those seven footers to come out... When?... And from where?...

A very good crop of freshmen boys out... Looks as if everyone will be playing some ball before the season is over... Two freshmen boys school that can't help the squad until next year... Darryl Flint and Borden Taylor... But wait... They mean good luck to the Bearcats in the future...

There's a problem on the campus... Who is the fellow who keeps trying to shoot those hook shots with his left hand?

Carolyn Mix Is Crowned Queen Of M-Club Dance, November 22

Room 113 of the Administration Building was the scene of the second annual "M" Club Dance, November 22.

Carolyn Mix, a freshman from Osborn, was chosen by members of the "M" Club to reign as queen. George Coulter, president, presented her with a crown of baby mums twined around a green M. Attendees were Joy Ann White, a freshman from Blytheville, and Sheila Fries, a senior from Maryville.

Green and white streamers made a false ceiling with a huge spangle covered ball rotating in the center. Behind the throne of the queen was a white parachute with a large green M placed upon it.

Les Coply and band from Kansas City provided the music for the dancing of the evening.

Miss Erma Linder of Cosby, a spring graduate, was here for a luncheon Saturday noon. She saw the parade and attended the football game. Miss Linder is teaching the second grade at Big Shoals.

Miss Jessie Jutten, former member of the College faculty and a member of the class of '36, was a guest of Miss Rachael Taul, class of '43. Both enjoyed the game.

Betty Reeves, class of '52, visited on the campus over the weekend. Betty is employed by Hallmark in Kansas City.
